Description

Welcome to the Signal Health Group e-Learning platform

Signal Health Group University is where highly skilled healthcare professionals come together to learn and grow. We believe in quality services for others' sake, and our mission is to increase e-learning opportunities for Home Healthcare, Hospice Care, Personal Care, Medicare, Medicare, Long-term Care, Medicaid, and more. Signal E-Learning bridges healthcare gaps by providing training and knowledge you can put to work right away.

We use the science of learning and industry best practices in home healthcare visualization to create our courses. With interactive classes and frequent assessments to ensure material mastery, we aim to assist learners in concentrating on the knowledge and application of fundamental medical principles.

Whether you are new to home health or have decades of clinical expertise, we invite you to become a part of our community.
